EXHIBITS AT FAIR HOLD ATTENTION

Rain During the Morning Reduced the Attendance, But With Better Weather Record Crowds Are Looked For—Horticultural and Agricultural Exhibits Are Most Attractive.

Owing to the heavy rainfall, the attendance at the fair grounds during the forenoon was considerably smaller than yesterday, but with there were a good many people who spent a number of hours viewing many excellent exhibits.

The attendance for the afternoon bids fair and the racing program will be given as scheduled. There are a good many horses on the track that are better racers on heavy tracks than light ones.

The exhibits of the various kinds are now in place and attracting much attention. It is said by those familiar with the different lines that are being shown that they cannot be excelled in any country. All the exposition buildings are so arranged, and the exhibits so conveniently placed that in the course of a few hours one may see or in a well cared for orchard, are of the finest quality, and in beauty are unsurpassed. The individual exhibits in these, as well as other departments are surpassingly fine and bring forth many words of praise from the people who have viewed them.

The greater interest just now seems to center in the agricultural and horticultural departments, where the Rio Grande system late this afternoon and, after a brief sojourn, will continue west over the Southern Pacific.

Children at School.—Although the weather this morning at the opening hour of the city schools was inclement, Superintendent Mills reports a splendid attendance of students. Mr. Mills is particularly well pleased with the enrollment at the sub-high school department which was formally opened at the old high school building. This department has been organized for the accommodation of eighth grade students from the various grade schools of the city who will graduate from this school into the high school. The old building was well filled with students, much to the surprise and satisfaction of Superintendent Mills and the teachers of the school.

Marriage Licenses.—Marriage licenses were issued this morning to Arthur M. Fraser of Charlotte, Canada, and Florence G. Yeager of Evansville, Ind., to Lige Christensen and Myrtle Conley of Coeville, Wyo., and to John I. Moyes and Maggie M. Cottam, both residents of Ogden.

DAVIDSON'S LIFE TO BE DEFENDED

RAILROAD OFFICIALS RALLY TO THE OFFICER'S AID.

Detective Jones Claims to Have a Photograph of the Man Killed by Davidson, Proving Bad Man.

R. J. Davidson, the Southern Pacific watchman who shot and killed Charles Schwendler in the yards at Montello last Wednesday night, surrendered himself to Judge J. J. Thurston yesterday at Montello and is now in jail awaiting his preliminary examination. Davidson has retained Charles Henderson, a prominent attorney of Elko, to defend him, and will plead not guilty to the charge of homicide. He maintains that Schwendler and two of his tramp companions threatened to "do him up" after he had ordered them away from a train loaded with general merchandise and that in order to chase them away from loaded

FROM THE BENCH.
A Judge Commends Pure Food.

A judge of a Colorado Court said: "Nearly one year ago I began the use of Grape-Nuts as a food. Constant confinement indoors and the monotonous grip of office duties had so weakened and impaired my mental powers that I felt the imperative need of something which neither doctors nor food specialists seemed able to supply. "A week's use of Grape-Nuts twice each day convinced me that some unusual and marvelous virtue was contained therein. My mental vigor returned with astonishing rapidity; brain weariness (from which I had constantly suffered) quickly disappeared, clearness of thought and intellectual health and activity which I had never previously known were to me the plain results of a few months use of this food. "Unhesitatingly I commend Grape-Nuts as the most remarkable food preparation which science has ever produced so far as my knowledge and experience extends. "The judge is right. Grape-Nuts food is a certain and remarkable brain builder and can be relied upon. "There's a reason."

there is a keen rivalry on the part of public institutions to excel. Those who have entered these contests are determined to carry away first prizes, and so beautifully and nearly perfect are the numerous articles to be judged, it will require experts to render a correct decision.

Before tonight all the exhibits will be properly labeled and it is expected that the judges will be ready to pass judgment by tomorrow morning.

The Weber county poor farm, the State Industrial school, the State School for the Deaf and Blind, the Roy district and the Bear River Valley Commercial club seem to be in the lead in the exhibition of the products of these two departments.

The cereals, fruits, vegetables, watermelons, and, in fact, all the things grown on a well regulated farm or in a well cared for orchard, are of the finest quality, and in beauty are unsurpassed. The individual exhibits in these, as well as other departments are surpassingly fine and bring forth many words of praise from the people who have viewed them.

cars and to frighten them out of the Southern Pacific yards he fired an automatic several times with no intention of wounding or killing, but to expect that he will be discharged at the preliminary examination which will be held as soon as Attorney Henderson can give the case his personal attention.

Detective Joe Jones of the Oregon Short Line secret service department is at Montello investigating the shooting and has a photograph of Schwendler, received from the chief of police at Milwaukee. The latter writes Detective Jones that Schwendler served a term in the Milwaukee jail for attempting to rob a railroad car and that his record there was of a criminal character. The photograph sent by the Milwaukee police authorities has been submitted to members of the corner's jury at Montello and it is alleged that they recognize Schwendler as the original of the photograph. It is understood the state authorities will probe the shooting to the bottom and that an effort will be made to hold the former night watchman to the district court on a charge of manslaughter.

WONDERS OF NATURE

Now running at the GLOBE THEATRE is the most beautiful picture ever shown in Ogden.

It shows different views of Twin Falls, Shoshone Falls, Snake River, Thousand Springs, Snowbank Springs, Perrine Cascades and many other views.

The views were taken from a balloon and took two weeks to place the picture complete. It will run all week at the GLOBE and lovers of good pictures should not fail to see this one.

CURBING AND CUTTERING ON WALL AVENUE

The work of curbing and guttering Wall avenue, between Twenty-fourth and Twenty-third streets has been completed and Contractor O'Neill has placed his men at work on the curbs and gutters of lower Twenty-fourth street. He says the rain is playing havoc with his operations and that this forenoon his men had to work between showers. A couple of days will finish the work on Twenty-fourth street, when the men will be moved to Lincoln avenue between Twenty-fifth street and Twenty-fourth street.

Not much curbing can be done on Washington avenue until the city engineer gets through placing surface pipe there, so it is very probable that the laying of concrete will begin on the other streets in the paving district before anything more is done on the avenue.

Mr. O'Neill says that the recent rains are causing him considerable trouble in Weber canyon because of the sudden rising of the waters of the river.

Seven Young Men Took Possession of a Barn and Then the Police Took Them.

The matinee in the criminal side of the city court was brief this morning, notwithstanding the fact that two holidays had passed since the previous session. It was expected that there would be spiky numbers on the program, but such expectations were not realized. The officers state that the city is remarkably free from the bad set when it is considered that the fair is in progress and hundreds of followers of the turf are in the city.

LIGHTNING STRIKES A HOUSE

HOME OF JAMES OWENS IS SET ON FIRE.

Street Car Also Hit by Electric Bolt—Passengers Uninjured Though Car Is Disabled.

During the time of the rainstorm this forenoon, lightning bolts played high jinks in the northern part of the city. A bolt struck the home of James Owens on Cross avenue near Tenth street, and set fire to the building. The fire department from station No. 1, however, made such a quick run to the premises that the fire was extinguished before much damage had been done.

No one was struck by the lightning but the fixtures in the kitchen were disturbed and the room filled with soot and ash from the stove. The bolt struck the chimney and made its way into the interior of the house along the stovepipe.

way into the interior of the house along the stovepipe.

A bolt also struck a street car near Tenth street, having followed the trolley pole into the motor underneath the car. The carman says a hole as large as a man's head was bored through the motor and the car was disabled. Fortunately no injuries were sustained by the passengers on the car. But there was considerable confusion for a time.

For a time this morning the telephones of the city were virtually out of commission on account of the electrical disturbance.

THIEVES ARE SNATCHING SATCHELS

WOMEN ARE THE VICTIMS OF SNEAKING THUGS.

Many Empty Purses Have Reached the Police Station—One Woman Loses $3.

The satchel snatchers seemingly are reaping a pretty good harvest in the city and the officers confess that it is a rather unique and effective manner of stealing. The thief takes but very little chance of being apprehended while turning the trick, because the victim is always an unsuspecting woman and the deed is done in the evening when identification is almost impossible.

Most of the purses grabbed contain money and other valuables, so the act is always a profitable one for the thief. Once the satchel is in the possession of the thief, he simply slips into a dark street or behind a bill board, takes the valuable from the handbag and throws the bag away. There are a number of handbags at the police station today awaiting claimants.

Mrs. Ralph Wiggins had her satchel taken from her Sunday night and it was found yesterday on lower Twenty-seventh street and brought to the station. The purse contained $8 in cash when it was taken from her, but when found it was empty. The purse was identified as hers, because, when the thief grabbed it, she clung to it so tenaciously that the handle was pulled from it. When picked up yesterday, a piece of wire had been sup- planted for a handle.

NINETY-NINE DAYS IN JAIL

FOR A PARASITE FROM A CRIB IN THE ALLEY.

Seven Young Men Took Possession of a Barn and Then the Police Took Them.

The matinee in the criminal side of the city court was brief this morning, notwithstanding the fact that two holidays had passed since the previous session. It was expected that there would be spiky numbers on the program, but such expectations were not realized. The officers state that the city is remarkably free from the bad set when it is considered that the fair is in progress and hundreds of followers of the turf are in the city.

Louis Warner was sentenced to ten days in jail for mendacity and John Jones, charged with drunkenness, was released, the court observing that it was just an ordinary Labor Day drunk.

Ed Elcora was placed under a $10 bond to answer the charge of mendacity and the hearing of the case postponed indefinitely.

M. C. Foley pleaded guilty of drunkenness and he was given an opportunity to reform. His sentence of ten days was suspended.

Weldon Nelson pleaded not guilty to the charge of vagrancy and testimony was taken which resulted in convicting the defendant. He was sentenced to 90 days in jail. The testimony of Detective James Pender was to the effect that Nelson, for some time past, has been keeping house with a paramour in Electric alley and that he had no visible means of support.

young men, pleaded guilty to the charge of trespassing and were each sentenced to five days in the city jail. The evidence showed that the men had occupied a barn Sunday night and that they are "knights of the road." In passing sentence the court stated that the men would be sent to jail long enough to prevent them from bothering the people during fair week.

Joe Wisnial, charged with vagrancy, was released, but Stanley O'Connor, charged with the same offense, did not fare so well, as he was sentenced to ten days in jail.

MOTHER WINS THE FIGHT FOR THE FAMOUS INCUBATOR BABY

Kansas City, Sept. 7.—The fight for the possession of five-year-old Marian Bleakley, the incubator baby of the St. Louis world's fair, is at an end.

So declared John H. Atwood, in the circuit court here today, when he, on behalf of Mrs. James G. Barclay of Buffalo, N. Y., who adopted the child when it was about to be abandoned, withdrew the habeas corpus suit brought by Mrs. J. J. Bleakley of Topeka, Kas., from whose home little Marian was kidnapped several weeks ago.

In withdrawing the suit, Mr. Atwood said Mrs. Bleakley's attorney might draw whatever decree they may wish.

Mrs. Bleakley and the baby were not in court.

"I am so sorry, but I guess it was meant that I should not have Marian," I want her, however, to have the best account my husband and I started for her the day we adopted her. In a Buffalo bank deposited to her name, is $321, which I shall arrange to have given her at once. I am glad the worry is over."

The arrest of the recovery of prices and the hesitating fluctuations which followed, showed the uncertain nature of the speculation. The dealings fell to a very small volume and the whole tone of the market indicated a feeling of suspicion of the reassuring announcement regarding Mr. Harriman's improvement, and a desire to adopt a waiting attitude in making commitments in the market.

The market turned very weak in the last ten minutes of trading on reports circulated in Wall street that Mr. Harriman's vitality was very low, causing grave anxiety among the relatives and friends.

New York, Sept. 7.—An opening break of 1 1/2 points in Union Pacific, 3 3/4 in Southern Pacific, 3 1/2 in New York Central, 2 3/8 in Reading and 1 to 1 3/4 in most other active speculative stocks, showed the great anxiety caused in stock market circles of the reports of a relapse suffered by E. H. Harriman while the stock exchange was closed for a three days' holiday. The market was without any official announcement from Mr. Harriman's business associates when trading began, and was confronted with reports of heavy selling and severe declines in the London market for American account before the opening here. The sales here were not in as large amount as on many similar occasions, but the tone at first was semi-demoralized. After the opening, vigorous support was exerted and prices rallied immediately. Within a few minutes an announcement was forthcoming from the Union Pacific offices that Mr. Harriman was much better and the appearance of the market became quieter.
